

AOLE	Subject	Year	Assessment
Languages, Literacy and Communication	Welsh	7	Students will complete 3 tasks assessing their Oracy, Reading and writing on the theme of “Cyflwyno fy hun” (Introducing myself)

Progression Table
Progression Indicator	Knowledge	Skills
Excelling	I can incorporate creativity and personalisation into my introduction, engaging the audience with unique details and anecdotes. I can construct complex sentences and use advanced language structures to provide detailed information about myself.	I can confidently and fluently express myself using advanced language skills, accurately pronouncing words and using appropriate intonation and rhythm. I can understand and respond to complex questions and prompts, actively engaging in conversations and demonstrating a high level of comprehension.
Advancing	I can attempt to personalise my introduction, including some interesting details and experiences. I can construct sentences and use language structures appropriately to provide relevant information about myself.	I can communicate effectively, using appropriate pronunciation, intonation, and fluency to express myself clearly and coherently. I can listen attentively to questions or prompts, understanding and responding appropriately with relevant information.
Securing	I can include personal details and experiences to make my introduction more engaging. I can construct simple sentences using appropriate language structures to share essential information about myself.	I can listen attentively to questions or prompts, understanding and providing appropriate responses with basic information. I can communicate with clarity, using understandable pronunciation, intonation, and fluency to convey basic information about myself.
Beginning	I can introduce myself in Welsh giving basic personal details. I can construct basic sentences using simple language structures to share basic information about myself.	I can use high-frequency words accurately to form simple sentences. I can use simple pronunciation, intonation and fluency to convey personal information.